the reformed exegete and theologian peter martyr vermigli 1499 1562 was an unoriginal but consistent thinker theological insights were not packaged separately from each other but consistently linked together in all his thought he sought to steer the middle course between theological extremes in taking what was good and rejecting what was bad from each typical of this tendency to steer the middle course are his insights into the outward instruments of divine grace according to vermigli such instruments the human nature of christ the audible words of scripture and the visible words of the sacraments should not be over carnalized nor over spiritualized although god could work immediately i e without instruments he has chosen to work through these instruments for salvation hence the inward spiritual power and the outward instrument must not be divorced from each other the spirit of god does not normally work without the outward instrument nor can the outward instrument effect grace without the spirit s power modern scholarship has done much to define the sources of vermigli s thought but more needs to be said the more vermigli is studied the more it is necessary to qualify characterizations of him he is not a thinker who is easily pigeon holed into a certain theological school or movement as a well educated biblical and humanistic scholar vermigli took independent and well reasoned positions on the whole variety of theological questions current in his day as such this study attempts to view the inter connected nature of vermigli s thought so as to gain a better view of the whole of his thought a great deal of scholarship has too often juxtaposed scholasticism and piety resulting in misunderstandings of the relationship between protestant churches of the early modern era and the theology taught in their schools but more recent scholarship especially conducted by richard a muller over the last number of decades has remapped the lines of continuity and discontinuity in the relation of church and school this research has produced a more methodologically nuanced and historically accurate representation of church and school in early modern protestantism written by leading scholars of early modern protestant theology and history and based on research using the most relevant original sources this collection seeks to broaden our understanding of how and why clergy were educated to serve the church contributors include yuzo adhinarta willem van asselt irena backus jordan j ballor j mark beach andreas beck joel r beeke lyle d bierma raymond a blacketer james e bradley dariusz m bryćko amy nelson burnett emidio campi heber carlos de campos jr kiven choy r scott clark paul fields john v fesko paul fields w robert godfrey alan gomes albert gootjes chad gunnoe aza goudriaan fred p hall byung soo paul han nathan a jacobs frank a james iii martin klauber henry knapp robert kolb mark j larson brian j lee karin maag benjamin t g mayes andrew m mcginnis paul mpindi adriaan c neele godfried quaedtvlieg sebastian rehnman todd rester gregory d schuringa herman selderhuis donald sinnema keith stanglin david steinmetz david sytsma yudha thianto john l thompson carl trueman theodore g van raalte cornelis venema timothy wengert reita yazawa jeongmo yoo and jason Zuidema
